NICKLE PLATE MERGER NOW SEEMS CERTAIN

Authorization of I. C. C. and Approval of Stockholders of Various Roads Needed—Pere Marquette Officials Favor It

ENORMOUS SYSTEM

Third Largest in East—Brothers Bought Nickle Plate to Acquire Right of Way for Cleveland Traction Line

New York, Aug. 28. — Completion of the $1,500,000,000 Nickle Plate railroad merger, engineered by O. P. and M. J. VanSwearingen of Cleveland, was assured today when directors of the Pere Marquette railway company ratified a proposal to enter the new system with four other roads, which already had approved the plan. Lines of the Pere Marquette will be linked with those of the present Nickle Plate, Erie, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Hocking Valley in one of the greatest consolidations in railroad history, creating a new eastern trunk line with more than 14,000 miles of track.

Machinery to obtain the approval of stock holders and authorization of Interstate Commerce commission will be set in motion before the end of the week. Letters outlining the offer of the VanSwearingens will be dispatched simultaneously to the shareholders of the five roads, inviting the deposit of their securities for an exchange into new Nickle Plate stock. The terms were announced semi-officially by bankers early this morning.

This grouping, which is voluntary as the part of all five carriers, represents the third largest system in the east. With over 9,000 miles of track, it ranks next in size to the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads.

Supported by powerful banking interests, including J. P. Morgan and company and the First National Bank of New York, headed by George F. Baker, one of Erie's largest stock holders, the VanSwearingens are expected to encounter little difficulty in obtaining consent of stock holders to the merger. The only dissimulation with it has been expressed so far has been by minority interests of the Chesapeake & Ohio, but they have taken no action to block the project.

BROTHERS BEGAN WITH REAL ESTATE

Cleveland, Aug. 28. — O. P. and M. J. VanSwearingen were successful real estate operators of Cleveland when they went in for railroads in 1916 by acquiring control of the Nickle Plate road. They had been poor boys.

It was real estate considerations that led them into railroad ownership. The two brothers had developed a large exclusive residential district known as Shaker Heights, covering about 1,500 attractive homes. Such a development required rapid transit. So the VanSwearingen brothers built their rapid transit line.

They planned a downtown terminus for their new transportation line and needed land adjoining the Nickle Plate right of way. They learned the Nickle Plate was acquiring land they would need.

So they bought the Nickle Plate, a 32-mile line, operating between Buffalo and Chicago.

Seven years later they engineered a merger that gave the railroad world as great a surprise as when they bought the Nickle Plate and added operations.

This was in 1923 when they combined the Lake Erie & Western, and the Toledo, St. Louis & Western (later Erie) roads with the Nickle Plate, making a 1,635-mile line reaching westward from Buffalo to Chicago, St. Louis and Peoria.

While this consolidation was under way, the VanSwearingen brothers obtained control of the Chesapeake & Ohio, the greater carrier of Baltimore and Washington, and the Washington & Annapolis, a 2,567 miles to their system and providing the water outlet at Newport News and Norfolk. The consolidation company then obtained a half interest in the Detroit & Toledo Shore Line railway, a freight carrier between Detroit and Toledo.

They built up a system of 6,600 miles of railroad connecting the Atlantic coast and the Great Lakes with a total investment of about a half-billion dollars.

In the meantime they had expanded their rapid transit terminal plan to include a $75,000,000 Union station for steam and electric roads, which is now under construction.

And in Cleveland Land.

The brothers, O. P. and M. J. VanSwearingen, were born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1874 and 1875, respectively. The family moved to Toledo, Ohio, a small town in the east. There the boys received a common school education, and after completing the elementary grades went to work. When the family moved to Cleveland they purchased a newspaper.

They improved their education by home study and with an aptitude for real estate and a desire for real estate, they went into business for themselves. The building of Shaker Heights, with 150 and 100 West streets, 200 acres

CHILDREN VICTIMS OF POISONED DRINK

Syracuse and Federal Authorities Order Probe of Two Cases Within 48 Hours

Syracuse, Aug. 28. — Discovery within 48 hours of two children suffering from the effects of poisoned whiskey today resulted in orders from city and federal authorities to determine responsibility in both cases and to clean up conditions which brought them about. Peter Kajatek, 14, was found unconscious in a park last night and Marjorie Jordan, 14, an Indian girl, was taken to a hospital in a serious condition the day before. Mark Buckland, chief of the Syracuse district prohibition enforcement forces, in a statement today declared his men are working with the police on the case. "If it can be learned where the boy got the liquor," he said, "we will prosecute to the full extent of the law."

Regarding the case of the Indian girl, Chief Buckland stated that the fact that she obtained liquor which caused her collapse on the Onondaga Indian reservation is no bar to action by the federal authorities.

FORMER ACTRESS CLEARS UP BAFFLING GEM THEFT

New York, Aug. 28. — Dorothy Lumsden, 34, a former burlesque actress, today cleared up a baffling theft of $4,500 in the faces of detectives today and sobbed a confession which, her captors declared, solves one of the biggest and most daring gem thefts in the history of Maiden Lane.

Tonight the young woman was under arrest, with her husband, James J. Burns, 29-year-old chauffeur, Harry Chance, another chauffeur, and Mark Wollen, a jeweler, all charged with having robbed the shop of Alexander Seldeneheimer of $100,000 in jewels last Thursday.

The actress-wife's mother, Mrs. Freda Trust, also was in custody. Detectives were investigating the alleged jewelry establishment while searching for the daughter alleged they found liquor, black jack and other weapons on the premises.

ANOTHER ROAD WOULD QUIT

Albany, Aug. 28. — The Geneva, Seneca Falls & Auburn railroad company made application to the Public Service commission today for approval of a declaration of the abandonment of the route between Seneca Falls and Auburn. The route, which runs from the intersection of Garden street to the south end of Johnson street and from there over the company's right of way to Seneca Lake park. The board of directors adopted the abandonment declaration April 15, 1922.

The New York Central has wanted to dispose of the Seneca Falls & Auburn line because of the cost to parallel and competing lines. The opportunity to acquire this terminal and rapid transit line as well as the Seneca Lake property, which led the VanSwearingens to purchase it, according to their statement.

The brothers, who are barkeepers, carry on their enterprises as partners on "Share a pie shop" basis, and have avoided paying taxes on their earnings as far as possible. They are close companions and avoid public gatherings.

PRESIDENT QUILTS FATHER'S FARM FOR WHITE HOUSE

Family Steps at Grave of Calvin, Jr., on Way to Ludlow—Visits Temporary Business Offices in Morning

Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 28. — President Coolidge turned toward Washington and the cares of office and a campaign tonight, refreshed and rested from the two weeks' vacation with his father and family in his boyhood home.

The baggage was packed early and this afternoon Mr. Coolidge sat with his family on the tiny front porch of the home, receiving the farewell visits of old friends and neighbors.

The annual services of the Pinney family, of which he is a descendant, in the one-room Union church across the road, were clearly audible.

Their first thought on arrival was their last in leaving, and the President, Mrs. Coolidge, and their son, John, stopped on the way to Ludlow tonight, where they boarded the train for Washington, to pay a final visit to the cemetery in which are buried the President's son, Calvin, Jr., and mother and sister.

Early this morning, before the usual line of visitors arrived at the cross road corner near the home, the President walked with his father, sides bordering the Green mountains.

Preparing again to resume in full swing the work of his office, Mr. Coolidge, as on previous days this week, visited in the temporary business offices for some time this morning, looking over the mail and the daily reports from the White House.

PROBE OF FIRPO'S ENTRANCE ORDERED

Labor Department Instructs Commissioner Curran to Obtain Warrant if Charges Seem Valid

Washington, Aug. 28. — Commissioner Curran of immigration at the port of New York was ordered by the labor department today to investigate charges that Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, had violated the immigration laws two months ago in connection with the entry into the United States of Miss Blanche Williams.

The order was sent after Rev. William Chase of New York had presented affidavits to the immigration bureau in support of his charges against Firpo involving the immigration law. Commissioner Curran was instructed to ask for a warrant for Firpo's arrest in case his investigations showed the charges to be well founded.

Firpo was recently arrested in New York on a warrant issued at the request of Rev. Mr. Chase, charging perjury in connection with his recent entry into this country. The charge was made that Miss Pierce was being brought here by Firpo at the time in violation of the immigration laws, but Firpo, in answer to questions of immigration inspectors, denied having known Miss Pierce in any but a casual way.

FLYERS WILL DELAY HOP TILL SATURDAY

Bad Weather Conditions Off Greenland Coast Responsible for Action

(By the Associated Press.)

On board the U. S. S. Richmond, at Ice Tickle, Labrador, Aug. 28. — Postponement of the flight of the American army world flyers from Igloolik, Greenland, to Indian harbor, Labrador, until Saturday, was definitely decided today because of the continuing stormy weather.

The gale which raged throughout Wednesday night off Ice Tickle had died down this morning and the rising barometer seemed to promise a possibility of the flyers continuing their air voyage from Igloolik to Labrador tomorrow, in accordance with the pre-arranged schedule.

During the day, however, the cruiser Milwaukee, which is stationed off Igloolik, where Lieutenants Lowell H. Smith and Eric Nelson are waiting to make their last over-sea jump, reported that the storm which had been moving up the coast for several days, affecting the Labrador side of Davis straits, had reached the Greenland shore during the night and the wind was blowing with some severity. Therefore, it was decided to put off the flight until Saturday.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF FARMERS IMPROVES SLOWLY

Washington, Aug. 28. — The financial position of farmers as measured by the exchange value of their products for non-agricultural commodities is gradually working toward a pre-war parity, according to the agricultural review issued today by the department of agriculture.

As a result of the recent rise in grain prices and the fall in prices of non-agricultural products, the combined exchange value of 16 leading farm products for the former class of commodities on August 1 had an index rating of 85, being the 1912 base as 100. This was said to have been the highest point reached in 47 months.

Discussing the general agricultural outlook in this country, the department called attention to that interest now is beginning to center on corn and hogs.

ACTION ON LAND SALE IN HOBOKEN WAITS FOR WEEKS

$500,000 Bid for Waterfront Parcel Way Above Various Estimates of Its Value—Port Authority Wants Property

Washington, Aug. 28. — Recommendations of the board of directors of the Hoboken, N. J., Manufacturers' Railroad company, that the bid of $500,000 of the Hoboken Land and Improvement company for the purchase of the waterfront property be accepted by the secretary of war was received today by Acting Secretary Dwight Davis.

Secretary Davis said, however, that no action would be taken by him on the bid until Secretary Weeks, who is now spending a vacation in New Hampshire, returns to Washington. Mr. Davis added that he had not received any word from President Coolidge, to whom Governor Silzer of New Jersey had protested the sale of the property.

The land company's bid was made under terms laid down by the war department when it advertised the property for sale and which compelled the department either to accept or reject the offers received within 15 days.

The board of directors of the railroad company told Secretary Davis that the bid was $48,300 in excess of the value of the waterfront property as appraised by the directors of that corporation, $53,200 higher than the valuation shown in the records of the chief land valuator of the Interstate Commerce commission for the port of New York district and $73,950 in excess of the book value of the property.

The board also transmitted to the department a proposal of the port of New York authority for the purchase of the entire property, comprising both the waterfront and the railroad property in the sum of $1,000,000 in 10-year gold bonds of the port authority.

CHICAGO LADS TO KNOW FATE SEPTEMBER 10

Judge Caverly Will Bar Spectators From Court That Morning—Strikes Crowe's Remarks From Record

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 28. — Judge John R. Caverly, retiring chief justice of the criminal courts of Cook county, took full charge today of the fate of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Louis, 20-year-old sons of millionaire fathers and confessed kidnappers and murderers of Robert Frank.

He set September 10, as the date on which he will announce the penalty for the crime and ordered all would-be spectators barred from the building that morning.

But before reaching that point, he struck out as "a cowardly and dastardly attack upon the integrity of this court, and an intended to incite a mob, and intimidate this court," remarks which came just at the close of the final summing up by Robert E. Crowe, state attorney.

Mr. Crowe had requested until the last a reply to a denunciation by Clarence S. Darrow, counsel for the defense, of testimony given in the early stages of the hearing by James Gortland, a detective attached to the state attorney's office. It was Gortland who swore that Leopold had said he hoped to escape the noose, "by pleading guilty before a friendly judge." Mr. Darrow called this testimony "perjury."

Judge Bartles State Attorney.

It was not until the state had formally rested and the defense and prosecution had agreed upon the brief formalities which were used to put the kidnapping case in the official record that the judge spoke.

Then he ordered stricken from the record the closing remarks of the state attorney as "a cowardly and dastardly attack upon the integrity of this court."

Mr. Crowe's jaw dropped and he paled. The words hit the crowded room with a force that "smothered every murmur."

"Your honor, I had," he began, but the judge interrupted him.

"The state attorney knew full well that his remarks would be heralded far and wide," said the court. "He knew, too, the court would have no opportunity to reply or defend himself from criticisms except by the action he has taken."

The judge then read a prepared statement and at its conclusion announced he would give his decision Sept. 10 at 9:30 a. m., "unless illness prevents."

Only the defendants, the attorneys for both sides, court attaches and newspaper men will be admitted to the final scene in the famous case.

The stenographic report of the concluding scene was as follows: "Mr. Crowe: 'The State rests.'"

Only Purpose to Incite Mob.

The court: "Before the state rests in the other case, the court will order stricken from the record the closing remarks of the state attorney as being a cowardly and dastardly assault upon the integrity of this court."

Mr. Crowe: "It was not so intended, your honor."

The court: "And it could not be used for any other purpose except to incite a mob and to try and intimidate this court. It will be stricken from the record."

Mr. Crowe: "If your honor please, the state attorney had no such intention."

The court: "We will go on—Mr. Crowe: 'I merely want to put my personal feeling plainly before the court. It was not the intention of the state attorney.'"

The court: "The state attorney knew that it would be heralded all through this country and all over this world and he knows the court has not an opportunity except to do what he did. It was not the proper thing to do."

AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

IF ALL THESE ARE CORRECT, THEN THERE IS NO LOST MOTION. DON'T LET BODY MOVE AWAY AND LOSE.

How do you manage to get such long drives?

Answered by BOB MACDONALD

Winner of the Metropolitan Open Championship, 1921 and 1923. One of the longest drivers in the game though using only a 12½ ounce driver.

Hitting the ball correctly and with great speed allows the player to get everything into his shot and with no loss of movement. Independent movements of the hands and arms, swinging from the shoulders, plus the foot and knee movement that turns the body, give one the speed that is required to drive a long ball, instead of the body moving the arms and legs, as is so common among poor players.

WASHINGTON HEADS LEAGUE

Get Eight Hits in Eighth, Six Tallies (Leading With Two One).

Ruth Gets Two Homers.

New York, Aug. 28. — Washington took the lead from the New York Yankees here today as the result of a split eighth-inning rally when Washington scored eight runs, six after two were out. Washington won the game by a score of 11 to 6.

Ruth hit his 41st and 42nd home runs, and apparently had piled up a safe lead for New York when Pennock weakened in the eighth. The entire New York club collapsed shortly after that.

With two out and New York still a run ahead, Goslin drove a line drive to Witt, but the sun blinded the fielder just as he was set for the catch. This went for a three-base hit, scoring three runs. Three more runs followed, two after Dugan prolonged the inning with a second fumble.

Washington drove out 18 hits, Wright hit two doubles and three singles and Goslin hit a homer, a triple, a double and a single and drew a pass.

Washington . . . 001 020 080—11 18 0 New York . . . 010 210 200—6 12 2 Batteries — Zachary, Russell, Marberry and Ruel; Pennock, Gaston, Jones, Marmax and Schang.

GIANTS LOSE CLOSE GAME

The Game at 2-3 With Scranton in Ninth Round, But Minors Succor in Pounding Needed Run Across Plate in Their Half of Last Frame.

Scranton, Aug. 28. — With the score standing a tie at 2-2, the Scranton club of the New York-Pennsylvania league went into its half of the ninth inning and pushed across the needed score to win the contest, beating the invading Giants 3 to 2. The game was a hard-fought duel between Blodgett and Terhune, in which the latter had the night edge.

The home club led by a 2 to 0 score when the eighth was finished, but the visitors got busy in their half of the ninth and manufactured a pair of runs. Fitch singled, and Roseberry was passed, Topel got a hit in the third, but Harner hit into a double play, Fitch scoring. Shepardon got a single to left, pushing Roseberry across the plate from third, where he had gone on the double retirement.

The score board showed a row of ciphers for each team for the first five rounds, but Scranton punched the bell for one in the last half of the sixth. Reece and Duryea got safe blows and Head sacrificed, Reece scoring.

In the eighth Duryea singled and Head doubled, Duryea scoring on this double blow.

The winning run was obtained when Harner was passed, and sacrificed to second by Comstock. Morris was out on a fly to Fitch and Terhune won his own game by a safe crack to left field.

A MATCH BETWEEN WALKER AND DUNCAN?

CYRIL WALKER SLOWEST OF ALL GOLFERS

GEORGE DUNCAN FASTEST OF ALL GOLFERS

HOW'D YOU LIKE TO SEE—

A match between George Duncan, the fastest of all golfers, and Cyril Walker, called the "slowest of all golfers". George, the Scotchman, walks up to the ball and snatches it, hardly without getting set, and Cyril, the English open champion of America, studies each shot for several minutes before he makes it. Duncan steps up and hits the ball before he has time to think about it, and thus outwits his nervous system. He plays his second shot almost without stopping and sometimes it appears as though he had putted without coming close enough to the ball to hit it. He does this because he is a bundle of nerves, and he mustn't give them a chance to upset him, which would be the case if he fidgeted around and waited.

Cyril Walker is just the opposite. At Detroit he was thinned on several minutes before he decided just how he was going to hit the ball. He loves to study everything out before-hand, to think out his problems of approaching and putting. He will even walk all the way to the green and back examining the fairway carefully. At Inwood last year Walker was given a scorer instead of a partner on his last round.

If such a match ever did take place, the slower of the two, as in the fable of the hare and the tortoise, would probably win. I can imagine Duncan "blowing up" at about the third hole, as his nerves couldn't possibly stand Cyril Walker's thoughtful way of playing.

HORSES ELECTROCUTED

The Dapple Grey Pair of Charles Becker of Schenectady killed in storm—Other Schenectady Notes.

Schenectady, Aug. 22. — During the severe thunder storm Wednesday evening, the two large dapple grey horses belonging to Charles Becker, were struck by lightning and instantly killed. They were first discovered Thursday morning, lying out in the field, where they had been put out to pasture about two months ago on Chamberlin, in Sperry Hollow. Albert DeLeon, the Schenectady mail carrier on rural route No. 1, when coming into the village about 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning, saw the two animals. Prince, the younger, was lying out flat, with Don resting against him, down on his forehead. The only mark visible on either horse was a burned yellow streak on Prince, up one leg along the mane and down to the nose, which was covered with blood. Don had a similar streak down his neck and under the stomach. It is thought they were struck about 8 p. m. While the animals had both been insured just before going into Becker. They were excellent work horses and were about five and six years old. Mr. Becker bought them both in Schenectady, when Prince was but four months old, and walked them out here, coming the young colts along with him on the road. They were great favorites of the people of Schenectady.

Village Street Improvements.

A force of men are now working on the road on Monitor street, filling in the deep ruts with shale and gravel and it is hoped a marked improvement in road conditions will soon be noticeable. For several years Monitor street, with but one exception, had the poorest road bed in the corporation. Sink holes and deep ponds have been the rule, not the exception. Property owners will welcome the repairs under way.

On her sixth wedding anniversary, last June 15, Mrs. Winger Still was presented with a pair of love birds, a gift from her husband. The pair quickly let it be known they were mates and Mrs. Still gladly gave a reward for the recovery of her lost love bird.

AGRICULTURE

The successful dairyman must weed, feed and breed, and keep continually at it.

Young chickens need plenty of ventilation on summer nights, and clean water during summer days.

When you write to the state college of agriculture for a bulletin, be sure to sign your name to the request.

Uncle Ab says it may be true a barking dog never bites, but the biting dog is the one that does the business.

A bookkeeping system on the farm is like a speedometer on the highway. It tells you how fast you're going and lets you figure the costs.

Don't let the woodlot be used as a crating ground. The feet of the cattle bruise the roots at the base of the trees and this gives entrance to insects and disease spores.

Vegetable growers in New York will be interested in a new bulletin of the state college of agriculture on grading, packing, and handling head lettuce. Ask the college at Ithaca for E-37, and they'll send it free.

Right at That.

The teacher had been giving a lesson on the reindeer—its habits, habits and uses. One little chap was not paying the slightest attention, so the teacher pounced on him.

"Now, what is the use of the reindeer?" she asked him.

The startled youngster looked up, paused and then replied: "Please, ma'am, it makes things grow?" — Chicago News.

here Wednesday.—Mr. and Mrs. William Wanner of Morris spent the week-end with Mrs. Howard Bundy. —Remember the services at the Baptist church next Sunday. This will be Rev. E. W. Rimpo's last Sunday with the church here. —Mrs. Friend Scott is enjoying a week's vacation from her work at the Otsego Department store. —About 75 of the members and friends of the Baptist Sunday school gathered at Three-Mile Point, on Otsego lake, Wednesday, and enjoyed the annual picnic of the school.

What is your feeling as to the practical value of Education? Are you conversant with some of the facts relating to the subject?

Is it known to you that the productiveness of a community may be measured by the amount of money expended for education?

It is only through education and training that boys are made into the kind of men who accomplish the big things in the business and industrial world and who therein win the great rewards.

In his remarkable booklet on "The Money Value of Education," prepared especially for the Bureau of Education of the Department of Education, Prof. A. Caswell Ellis points out—

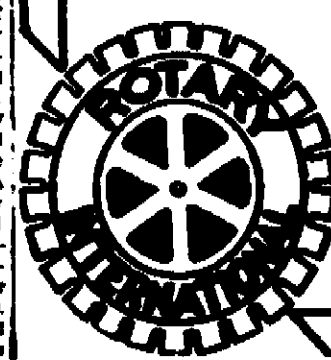

"The necessity for education has increased and will continue to increase with the advance in the complexity of the processes of civilization. Because of the unparalleled program in the arts and sciences during the past fifty years the need of education has in a generation multiplied many times.

"A century ago a transportation system was a little more than a wagon and a driver who knew the road. Now in handling a problem of transportation, experts in traffic must first determine whether a road in that place will be worth while and what kind of road will be most economic and efficient, experts in finance must provide the tremendous sums needed to build the road, civil engineers must lay it out, bridge engineers plan the bridges, chemical engineers test the material, mills and factories with scores of chemical and physical experts make the rails, build the locomotives and steel cars, and a host of traffic experts, auditors, accountants, and specially trained managers and clerks, telegraphers, engineers, conductors, and others keep the trains moving with safety and with profit."

How about the boys of your acquaintance — Are they heading for "wagon drivers" jobs or are they fitting themselves for something bigger?

VARIOUS ANGLES OF THINGS

Blank Eye for Psychiatry.

Before the Leach-Leopold trial began we ventured a prediction that the battle of the experts would set the science of psychiatry back to a tremendous extent in the estimation of the public. The result has justified that prediction. Altruistic and psychological of presumed eminence have in all seriousness given utterance to opinions which have impressed the great majority of people as being of great importance.

The psycho-analysts, therefore, have had rather hard going. They will have harder going than ever now that the proceedings in Chicago have introduced the public with a tremendously good argument. All that the public can make out of the testimony of the defense experts is that psycho-analysis is something to save despicable murderers from being hanged, for making out that a criminal is not a criminal but a victim of infantile personality or some other highfalutin thing. — New Bedford Standard.

"Conclusive Presumption?"

It is readily apparent that, although the new Democratic leaders are glad to have the support of William Jennings Bryan, they have not much respect for him. As one of the editorial boosters for Davis says, "The capacity to swallow supposed political principles might have been mentioned by Solomon as one of the things too wonderful for him." — Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Perry Memorial.

Council took the proper action yesterday in instructing the real estate board to make an appraisal of the land upon which it is proposed to build the Perry memorial. There has been opposition to the memorial in connection with the memorial. The people of Erie want action. They feel the memorial, with a fine park at the bay front as a setting for it will do much to help Erie. — Erie Times.

Still After the Cup.

The news that Sir Thomas Lipton has not yet given up hope of lifting America's cup will be met with satisfaction on this side of the Atlantic. The honors which go with possession of the trophy are not half so glorious when the cup reposes in the keeping of its custodians, unchallenged. — Philadelphia Bulletin.

OTSEGO PRIMARY BALLOTS.

Total for County Thirteen Thousand Three Hundred.

The figures for the required number of ballots for the primary election, as tabulated by the Commissioner of Elections, show that the total number of regular ballots to be provided for the Republican party will be 3,165, and of sample ballots 650. For the Democratic party 2,143 regular ballots will be provided, with 245 samples. The total number of ballots is therefore 13,388, and to these must be added a small number of Socialist ballots, probably about 50. The copy for the county nominations is now in the hands of the printers, but the actual printing waits formal announcement from the secretary of state.

The primary election throughout the state will be held on Tuesday, September 16, from 12 noon to 9 p. m.

Under these circumstances it is manifest that there is one thing which, more than mere party policies, should be urged from every platform during this year's campaign, preached from every pulpit and pled for in every newspaper. It is that the thing which we inherited as a right we shall exercise as a duty—that we shall register for and vote at the coming election.

HORSESHOES.

The horseshoe no longer stands for luck so much as for sport. The quaint old game of horseshoes, long ridiculed as merely bucolic, has won popularity among city folk and has found its place at last on the sporting page. In city after city there are regular teams, annual meets, publication of games won and lost and rumors made, and a general interest such as no old-timer would ever have expected of this ultra-modern game.

It is a fine thing. Horseshoes always was a good game, and is more worthy of preservation than some games far longer recognized in the realm of respectable sport. And a curious notion may occur to the onlooker at one of the numerous present-day championship meets. The "sport of kings" is waning with the gradual elimination of the horse from civilized life by the all-conquering gas engine. As it wanes, the humble sport of horseshoes waxes ever more popular. Nothing may be left of the horse eventually but his shoe.

FOR STATE CIVIL SERVICE.

Examinations Held in Many Cities on Saturday, October 4.

The State Civil Service commission announces examinations on Saturday, October 4, in Oneonta and other cities of the state for numerous positions in the public service. Applications for these examinations should be filed on or before September 24 for written examinations and October 4 for practical ones. For detailed circular and application forms address a postal card to Examination Division, State Civil Service Commission, Albany. The following are some of the positions to be filled: Architectural draftsman or designer, assistant bacteriologist, bookkeeper, stenographer for Finger Lakes State Park commission, director of after care State Training school for Girls at Hudson, assistant civil engineer, laboratory assistants in bacteriology and serology, landscape architect and forester (state appointments), law clerk, attorney general's office, library assistants, medical inspectors of factories, park engineer, Finger Lakes, research engineer in architecture (four appointments), stenographers at state medical institutions, superintendent in public commission, telephone operator at Napanoch Institution for defective delinquents, and tracer in Department of Architecture.

There are also many vacation opportunities, a considerable number of them being for trained nurses, health care attendants, and in regular service.

Days of Old Reminded by Items Clipped from The Star Files.

August 29, 1884.

Hon. A. L. Kellough will give the address on Labor day, speaking at the conclusion of the parade from the band pagoda on the Ford mansion lawn.

Dr. J. L. Chapman, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Chapman, left yesterday for Townsend, Schuyler county, where he will locate for the practice of his profession. Dr. Chapman was graduated from the Baltimore Medical college last spring.

The vice presidents of the Roosevelt and Fairbanks campaign club for the first district are Frank D. Miller, Henry Bull, Roscoe C. Briggs, Dr. E. D. VanCleft, Jerry Whaley, J. Arthur Woodheiser, Joseph Farnes, Ransom Evans, George Koury and Philo E. Stebbins.

Ground will be broken soon on the Delaware & Hudson company's property at the foot of Broad street, for the new switches that are to be put in. There will be four tracks located where the old coal office and sheds were recently torn down and they will be used for placing cars loaded with Oneonta consignments.

August 29, 1884.

The price paid farmers for milk at the Maryland milk station is $1.04 per 100 pounds—or a fraction over two cents per quart.

The times have been few if any during the past few years when more residences were being erected about town than at present.

Messrs. Keenan, Lewis and Miller called from Liverpool for this country on August 21, on the Majestic. They will soon arrive in Oneonta, should no accident occur.

E. O'Connell has vacated the rooms he recently occupied in the Ford & Stewart block and has moved his law office to East Davenport, where he formerly made his headquarters.

Boys Will Be Boys.

"Man overboard!" yelled the captain. "Throw the buoy over quick, Pat!"

"Pat, relaying the cabin boy as he was passing, threw him in."

The captain, frantic: The cork buoy, I meant, you fool!

Pat: I don't care if he belongs to Cork or Tipperary. He's gone now!

THE GUIDE POST—

BY Henry and Tertius VanDyke

A LESSON FOR GROWN-UPS

He called to him a little child and set him in the midst of them.—Matthew 18:2.

The output of preaching and teaching to children to prepare them for becoming men and women is enormous.

It is well that this should be so.

But it would be still better if that teaching and preaching should be more closely directed to giving them a true understanding of themselves and a clearer view of the moral opportunities and obligations of human life.

But there is another side to this question which has been almost totally neglected except by those who are real lovers of the teachings of Jesus—that is, emphasis on the need of men and women to become little children.

The truth is, spiritual maturity is a double process—that of growing up in experience and knowledge, and of becoming young again in spirit.

Most of us seem to lack the combination of qualities.

It is comparatively easy to become sophisticated and cynical, but very difficult to attain to the wisdom of a little child.

Are you perhaps getting just a little hard and bitter—maybe even a little cynical—because you are not becoming a little child?

Establish a real personal interest in some child—your own child, or as well as your own—and let him or her reveal to you how to turn and become as a little child.

Then you will be really grown up.

A ONE-ROOM SCHOOL BUILDING.

Rural Education Activities to Be Shown at State Fair.

A one-teacher rural school building as the center of an exhibit of rural education activities in New York State will be shown by the State Department of Education at the New York State Fair in Syracuse from September 8th to 13th. The exhibit will be located in the west part of the State Institutions Building.

The rural school building is complete in every detail and embodies the most satisfactory features of rural school construction and equipment. Measuring 27½ feet by 25½ feet, the structure contains a main study room with accommodations for twenty-eight pupils, toilet rooms, coat room, vestibule, fuel room and an alcove for the teacher.

The most modern equipment has been installed in the model building. Lighting, heating and ventilating facilities, seats, blackboards, window shades, drinking fountains, toilets, and every other feature conform to the recognized standards of proper school-room equipment. The tinting of the walls and the selection and hanging of wall pictures add to the attractiveness of the building.

Near the building, which all visitors at the fair are urged to attend, on the walls of the department's exhibit space will be displayed charts and pictures of rural school activities, not only of one-teacher schools such as the building, but also of larger institutions. The whole exhibit is planned as an education in rural education and it is expected it will be one of the most popular displays at the fair.

BOYD FAMILY REUNION

Tenth Anniversary of Its Kind Held August 21 at Sidney Camp Grove.

The reunion of the Boyd family held Aug. 21, at the Sidney Camp grove was a most enjoyable occasion. Those present were about 16 in number, all descendants of William Boyd, a soldier of the Revolution. The family has always maintained a high patriotic standard, furnishing men for the war of 1812, the Civil war and the World war.

In times of peace they have provided good citizens, interested in all those things which make for the good of the community. Many of those present were especially interested in the little Baptist church of Cannonsville where their ancestors worshiped and for which they worked and denied themselves and a committee was empowered to use the money in the treasury towards a memorial window to be placed in that church.

It is desired to keep a record of the family for those interested and there were brief reports from the descendants of one branch of the family. It is hoped to hear from others next year.

The secretary is Mrs. Robert W. Scott of Walton, who will be glad to communicate with any who may be interested in the family.

—The Board of Health will meet this morning at 11 o'clock at the Common Council rooms at the Municipal building.

—The Board of Health will meet in the mayor's office this morning at 11 o'clock. All persons having complaints to make should present them at this time.

—A number of improvements are being made on Baker's Garment shop, including the painting of the front of the building, while the entrance is being refinished in an attractive ivory tone.

—There was no opposition to the proposed traffic ordinance for Oneonta at the hearing held yesterday morning by Mayor Bolton and accordingly he affixed his signature. Copies of the ordinance will now be filed with the secretary of state and it is thought that the ordinance will become effective on October 1.

—A new stucco building measuring 28 by 80 feet, is being erected at 42 River street by S. G. Puccio, engineer and contractor of this city. BALL TEAM RETURNS MONDAY

Two Games With Binghamton on Labor Day and Two Weeks of Fall Follow.

The Oneonta ball team of the New York-Pennsylvania league, which has been on the road for the past ten days, returns to Oneonta on Monday for two games with Binghamton on Labor Day. The first game will be called at 10:30 o'clock and the second at 3:30 p. m.

Following the Labor day games there will be nearly two weeks of ball at Neahwa park, with two Sunday games, September 7 and 14. Scranton will be here on September 2, 3 and 4, and will be followed by Wilkes-Barre on September 5, 6 and 7. York comes for a series of three games, September 8, 9 and 10, and Harrisburg will be here on September 11, 12, 13 and 14 for the final games of the season.

While Oneonta has lost more games than the team has won on this trip, the boys have played good ball and the games have been close and exciting and the verdict of the sport writers in the cities they have visited is that the team is a strong one, likely to make any team in the league play hard to wrest a victory.

If Oneonta wants league ball the games of these closing two weeks should be well patronized, as the financial success of the venture into league ball will be determined by the box receipts for these final games. Support is essential if Oneonta is to remain in the league another season.

THAT DANISH FOLKEFEST.

Fifth Annual Gathering Saturday at Neahwa Park.

Natives of Denmark, and their descendants, residing in the state of New York, but particularly those whose homes are in Otsego, Delaware and surrounding counties, will meet at Neahwa park on Saturday of this week for their fifth annual Folkefest. For this event an excellent program has been prepared, with singing in Danish and English, the patriotic songs of the home land and of the United States being effectively rendered, and with excellent addresses by Pastors Bergelsen and Petersen of Brooklyn.

With the favorable weather which is anticipated there will be several hundred people of Danish blood in attendance. Oneonta, which thrice before has welcomed the visitors, will wish for them a pleasant and profitable reunion, and hope for itself that another year will bring them back again to this city.

Meetings Today.

Lutheran league outing and business meeting will be held at Wilber park at 6 o'clock tonight. Business of importance. In case of rain meeting will be held in church.

Special meeting of St. James' Guild in the Parish house this afternoon at 2:30 sharp. All members are requested to be present as there is important business.

The Ladies' Aid society of the United Presbyterian church will meet in the church parlors this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

THE "Y" AND THE BOYS

Boys' Secretary Holmes Gives Interesting Talk at Rotary Luncheon—Outlines Program of Boys' Band.

What the local Y. M. C. A. is now doing for the boys of Oneonta, and what it is planned to do in the future, if adequate equipment is provided, was clearly and interestingly set forth by Boys' Secretary Charles L. Holmes in his address before the Oneonta Rotary club at its weekly luncheon yesterday. His remarks were greatly enjoyed by the Rotarians and all carried away with them a better conception of the uses and needs of the Y. M. C. A. than they had had before.

Mr. Holmes commenced his talk by stating the need of looking out for the boys of the community, and of providing something for him to do in his spare moments. He said that the Y. M. C. A. is not well equipped for an extensive boys' work program, but that he considered a great step forward had been taken in the formation of the boys' band.

The boys' band now has 40 members, all of whom are showing proficiency in the use of their several instruments. The instruments, which cost approximately $100, were purchased by the "Y" and are being bought by the boys on a partial payment plan. A few of the larger instruments are owned by the association. Mr. Holmes is the instructor and has already given 50 private lessons to 30 boys. All of the lessons are free. The band will provide something for the boys to do in their spare hours and will give them mastery of some musical instrument, a distinct social asset.

Mr. Holmes spoke of the baseball teams organized by the association and of the hiking and camping trip recently taken by a group of boys under his guidance. Transporting their equipment with a horse and wagon, the boys hiked to Arnold's lake, thence to Cooperstown lake, Hartwick Seminary, Goosey lake and home, spending about a week in the open. It is hoped to secure the use of a truck next year and take a longer trip, including several of the larger cities in this section of the state.

The speaker emphasized the lack of proper equipment for boys' work at the "Y" and urged the erection of a new building containing a gymnasium and a swimming pool, both vitally needed. The gymnasium and pool would be available, he said, for the use of all residents of the city.

In closing, Mr. Holmes urged the Rotarians to get behind the work of the Y. M. C. A., not for their own sakes and not for the sake of the "Y," but for the sake of the boys of the city.

Guests at the luncheon were Rotarian Daniel Dugan of Albion, Gratton McManis of New York city, William A. Robinson of Brooklyn, Howard Smith of Flushing, L. I., Robert Clemons of Oneonta, Rotarian Robert Tubbs of Paterson, N. J., J. D. Gardner of Johnstown, Pa., and Rotarian Ernest Muster of Berwick, Pa.

MARVELOUS ACCIDENT ESCAPE

Three of Party in Accident Near Hale Farm on Otsego Road Escape with Minor Injuries—Scranton Girl in Hospital.

Miss Mary Dyer of Scranton, Pa., is in the Fox Memorial hospital suffering slight injuries to her side, which she sustained last evening when the Buick touring car, in which she was riding with Lester Hyzer and Miss Mable Christian, both of Franklin, ran into the guard rail of the Otsego state road near the Hale farm at about 10:30 o'clock. While nothing serious in the condition of Miss Dyer has developed, it was said at the hospital last evening that she would probably be confined there for a day or two. The other members of the party escaped miraculously with only slight injuries; Mr. Hyzer suffering abrasions of the face.

The party left Franklin at about 8 o'clock last evening in the 1922 Buick touring car of William Hyzer or that village, father of the young man who is 25 years old. They were said to be traveling at about 20 miles an hour, Miss Christian driving, when the car failed to make the turn and the car ran into the guard rail.

Three posts were taken out there, and one of the top rails was driven through the car, entering on the right side of the dash board and plunging through the front seat and on to the rear one.

Miss Christian was unhurt, Hyzer was thrown from the car, sustaining bruises and abrasions of his cheek, and Miss Dyer was the only one considerably hurt.

Miss Dyer was rushed to the hospital by Daniel Baker and Walter Bailey of this city, who had followed their car from Unadilla, and these two lads later returned to the scene of the accident for Mr. Hyzer.

This is but one of a number of bad accidents which have occurred on this curve in the past few years, and some more should be made to post suitable signs.

FROM FARMER BOY TO AGENT

Leo B. A. M. Bulletin Gives Interesting Sketch of Rowland Lamb of Middle Granville, Native of Otsego.

Each issue of the Delaware & Hudson Company Bulletin gives an interesting sketch, with portrait, of one of the veterans in the company service. The latest of these is of Rowland C. Lamb, Sr., long a resident of Middle Granville, who entered the employ of the company in 1873, and continued until 1922, when he was retired on pension. Mr. Lamb was a native of Otsego and is well remembered by the older residents of the community. Says the Bulletin:

A rather unusual record of service in that his connection with the company did not begin until after he was twenty-seven years old, but then continued unbroken for forty-eight years and seven months, is one of the high spots in the life of Rowland C. Lamb, Sr., agent at Middle Granville until February 1, 1922, when he was retired on pension. He was seventy-eight years old on February 29, last, but despite this fact, with the one exception of deafness, he is as alert and active as at any time during more recent years, and on Saturday, August 3, last, made the trip from his home to Cooperstown, unaccompanied, in order that he might participate in the third annual reunion of The Delaware and Hudson Veterans' association.

He was born on Flax Island Creek, about four miles from Otsego, and was the youngest of eight children of Asa W. Lamb, a farmer. His mother died when he was only six months old, and from then on he lived with his grandfather, Rowland Carr, at West Branch on the Otsego, also four miles from Otsego. During his earlier boyhood days he attended the district school in the vicinity of his home, but later was a student at the public schools in Gilbertville and Otsego.

His first venture in the way of employment outside the family circle was at painting, but it was not long before he became convinced that he could not follow that work because of the effect the turpentine, used in mixing the paints, had on his eyes. It was at about that time that he read the advertisement of a School of Telegraphy at Oberlin, Ohio, and, after some correspondence, he went there and enrolled for a course of study for a period of twelve weeks. Returning to Otsego, upon the completion of his work, he became a member of the faculty of The Delaware Literary Institute at Franklin, a few miles distant, and for three terms taught telegraphy there.

A Lost Opportunity.

Meanwhile the opportunities apparent in railroad work had attracted him, and, having made application, he entered the employ of the company as a clerk and telegrapher under Charles Corbin, then agent at Otsego, on July 1, 1873.

He tells of how during the time that the Albany and Susquehanna railroad, now the Susquehanna division, was being constructed, the village of Otsego had an opportunity to secure the location of the repair shops which were eventually built at Oneonta, but that some of the more staid among its residents, fearing that they would prove a detriment to the growth of the village, opposed the movement. Had they been located at Otsego, they would have occupied the site lying between the station and the Susquehanna river, the site then under consideration.

On April 1, 1875, he was transferred to Sidney, as clerk and telegrapher, serving first at the Tunnel and then at Bainbridge, Unadilla, and other points on the division. While taking the place of J. J. M. Brown, agent at Unadilla, who was then enjoying a wedding trip, he was asked by Joseph Angel, the superintendent, to go to Round Lake as a regular agent, and thus he came to realize one great ambition.

His next move was to Green Island and then, on January 1, 1883, at the request of Superintendent Voorhees, he went to Middle Granville to substitute for a period of thirty days, which, instead, stretched out into a period of thirty-nine years before his work there was concluded. During that time he witnessed a great increase in the amount of business done. In the beginning he was able to care for all of the work alone, although, at times, the hours were long, indeed. Now the services of three persons are required, one of these being his wife, whom he taught the art of telegraphy before they were married, and she has been in the employ of the company since 1892.

ELKS DEVOUR 15,000 CLAMS

Tenth Annual Bake at Pine Lake Attended by 300.

Some 300 Elks, mostly members of Oneonta lodge, but with visitors from various cities about the state, were in attendance at the tenth annual clam bake of that organization held at Pine lake yesterday afternoon. The committee was busy during the early part of the day setting things in readiness and at 2 o'clock when the bake was opened everything was done to a nicety, all agreeing that it was one of the most successful bakes they ever attended.

The hungry crowd devoured some 15,000 clams, 250 pounds of chicken, 125 pounds of sausage, 600 ears of corn, three bushels of sweet and Irish potatoes with the usual liberal supply of celery, pickles, rolls, brown bread, and with these disappeared a liberal supply of near beer and other liquids. None went hungry or dry.

Kerton's land provided music for the afternoon and there were all sorts of sports held in both before and after the bake and the crowd gathered had worked up a good appetite for the feast. Frank G. Sherman, chairman of the bake committee, and his 12 assistants, worked hard for the success of the event and much credit is due them.

CHARLES CITY CHAMPION

Wins Tennis Title by Defeating Getman in Brilliant Match Played Yesterday Afternoon on City Courts.

Staging a desperate comeback, after losing the first two sets, Donald Charles slashed his way to victory over Damon L. Getman on the Spruce street courts yesterday afternoon in the finale of the men's singles city tennis championship tournament. The scores were 4-6, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3, 7-5. Getman won the first set, 6-4, after a hard struggle, during which much brilliant tennis was displayed. Getman played Charles off his feet in the second set playing to his back hand and passing him consistently, and won, 6-1. Charles came back in the third set and won, 6-2, also taking the fourth set, 6-3. The fifth and deciding set was the most hard fought and thrilling of the match. Charles won the first five games and with the score 4-0 in the sixth in his favor it appeared that he would make it a love set. Getman rallied, desperately, won the game and then hammered his way to victory in the next five, setting the count at deuce. His effort was too much for him, however, and although he fought hard his opponent took the next two games, the set and the match.

The tennis displayed throughout the match was the most brilliant and thrilling displayed in the city in many a day. Seemingly impossible shots were made frequently and the good sized audience was brought to its feet many times.

An analysis of the play leads to the conclusion that the men are quite evenly matched. Charles had more speed in his lofers and played a more slashing game, but Getman displayed more ability in placing and played a more finished game. Charles' back hand was weaker than that of Getman and the latter played the ball to the left of his opponent, and with good effect, whenever possible, in better condition, through constant competition in athletic events, Charles was able to withstand the grind of the long match better than did his opponent and therein is the secret of his success.

NINTH ANNUAL OUTING.

Supervisors of Otsego Meet at Canadagrace Park Next Week Friday.

The members of the board of supervisors, through the committee of arrangements, have sent out invitations for the ninth annual outing and picnic, which will be held at Canadagrace park, Richfield Springs, on Friday, September 5. A chicken dinner will be served at 1:30 p. m., the charge being $1.25 per plate.

The name, Supervisors' picnic, is in some sense a misnomer, as not only members of the present board are invited but also all former supervisors and all former and present county officials, and their families. It is a get-together affair which from the first has been successful, since it affords exceptional opportunity for renewal of old friendships; and there is no doubt that the previous high record will be maintained.

Rev. I. L. Bronson of Oxford and formerly of Davenport returned to his home from Afton on Tuesday of this week, having nearly recovered from the injuries he sustained on August 5, when he was thrown from his car and while unconscious was badly scalded. The accident occurred at the foot of Belden hill and was caused by a blowout. The car turned over and the radiator cap flew off and he was below the car the hot water scalded his lower limbs while he was unconscious. EXPLAINS LAWLESSNESS

M. E. Tolley Says Growth of Disorder is Due to Neglect on Part of Electorate—Suggests Day of Fast.

Norwich, Aug. 28. — The third day has always been the big one at the Chenango County fair, and yesterday kept the record good with an estimated attendance of 8,000. Weather conditions were ideal, fair and moderate temperature prevailing. Harold S. Tolley of Binghamton, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress, opposing Congressman John D. Clarke, of Delaware county, was the speaker of the afternoon, being introduced by District Attorney Isaac S. Truesdale, himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for county judge.

Mr. Tolley, a well known orator, and speaking as a soldier, said that the greatest danger to the United States today is not from a foreign invader, but from inactivity in the use of the ballot; a somewhat new thought which appealed strongly to his auditors.

He went on to say that the welfare of the republic was threatened by government representatives who vote for their constituents rather than according to personal feelings, since many were unwilling to then obey the laws which were passed.

GET IN YOUR APPLICATIONS.

Inspector for Motor Vehicle Bureau Says They Come Slowly.

Frank W. McCook of Walton, who has recently been appointed inspector for Otsego county under the new motor vehicle law, has arrived in Cooperstown and will make his headquarters for the present at the office of the county clerk.

Mr. McCook in a statement yesterday said that the most important thing for motorists to do at the present time is to get in their applications for operators' licenses. Don't wait until the last minute and be disappointed, as the amount of clerical work required to provide all drivers in the county will be enormous and some of those who wait are going to be disappointed.

So far the applications have been coming in slowly. Of those that have been received many have to be returned on account of failure of the applicant to fill them out in a proper manner. There seems to be a great tendency to fill out all the blanks, especially the renewal stub and the blank calling for the registration number.

There are two blank spaces on the renewal stub whereupon the applicant is requested not to write, but this refers only to the spaces. All the blank lines must be filled on this stub.

Read the questions carefully before writing the answers, and remember to swear to your signature.

It is not necessary to make a trip to the county clerk's office. To mail it with a dollar is sufficient. For greater safety, it should be registered.

Overlooked Reminds.

On Saturday, Aug. 23, the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Sarah E. Osterhout, with a few friends, met at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. W. Green, near Franklin, with whom she has been for some time, having been sick for nearly a year. She was 84 years old Aug. 23, and until about a year ago had been quite well.

There were 22 who sat down to tables loaded with good things to eat. The guests and singing by the grandchildren were enjoyed by all. All departed hoping that the grandchildren would soon be well and strong again and endeavoring many more birthdays.

OLD INDIAN HUNTER
RECALLS BIG FIGHT

Jim Gillett Tells of Early Days in Texas.

New York.—Capt. Jim Gillett of Texas is in town at the Museum of the American Indian hasn't heard about it. Capt. Jim Gillett is in town at the Natural History museum's Indians talk in waves dignity. The captain can't find even so much as a wooden cigar store Indian.

But perhaps you don't know who Capt. Jim Gillett is.

Well, then, he was one of the frontier battalions of the Texas Rangers in the train-robbing Seventies. He was marshal of El Paso in the early Eighties, when keeping the law in El Paso was a mean job, requiring the rapid and expert manipulation of explosive hardware. Probably the captain has "it" more redskins than any one north of the Rio Grande today.

For more than half a century Captain Gillett fought redskins, punched cows, kept the peace, and ranged in the wildest state. Now, for the first time in his life he's come North. He's been doing New York. He sat in the Hotel Commodore and reminisced of old times, of when he fit the varmints when no day was started right without a bit of gun fighting.

The grizzled Indian fighter, now sixty-eight, started shooting with an old Enfield musket some one brought home from the Civil war. It was as long as a fence rail and twice as heavy. The frontier boy had to shoot with a rest—he couldn't hold it up. And, oh, how it kicked!

The captain fought Comanches, Kickapoo Apaches, all sorts of fellows with the scalping knife, but his first brush with redskins came just after he had joined the frontier battalion. Fifteen Lipans from Old Mexico had swooped down on a ranch and made off with a herd of horses.

Thirteen rangers went after them and Jim Gillett was among them.

They rode 40 to 60 miles a day. They camped by accident in a nest of rattlers and several horses were bitten.

Old Captain Robert never faltered and after some days they came upon the marauders and captured or killed them after a wild fight. Gillett himself rode down the chief of the band, but had a narrow escape from bullets and arrows.

Do You "let the future take care of itself?"

The tendency on the part of so many to "let the future take care of itself" has been responsible for most of the worry and financial difficulties experienced in later life.

You simply cannot push the future out of your line of vision indefinitely. One day it is before you with soul-shocking clearness.

To those who are unprepared to meet it will come want and suffering.

To those who have had foresight enough to provide an income through the periodical purchase of safe, sound securities will come happiness and contentment.

Shoes for All
Who go to School

With the start of a new school year just a few weeks away, comes the important "getting ready" period. And with it a subject that should be of importance to every family wherein there are children (little or big)—correct shoes. We all know how improper shoes ruin the feet, and the nervous and digestive systems as well. "Correctly built shoes, correctly fitted" is a hobby with us. Nor do we overlook styles. Boys or girls who are going away to school will find that our styles are cosmopolitan.

Kindergarten Kiddies

Children who have been bringing their children here right along for shoes will see the wisdom of stopping in now. If the youngsters have not had new shoes recently, for little feet develop and change very rapidly, especially in summer when loose shoes allow them to spread.

And we want to encourage all other mothers to give the little ones a safe sure to school, let us (or any CARE-IT shoe man) see that they have the proper shoes.

For Boys and Girls
Attending Grammar
School

Correct fit, good service, fair prices and pleasing style—four points about our shoes and service for children. And you know how important it is that all of them be carefully watched. You're working to give them a good education—be certain their shoes fit; then, beyond the doubt, rather than the feet, of their shoes.

High School Days

Correct styles aplenty for girls and boys in their teens—plus that careful fitting that assures foot comfort. No need to tell them how much proper shoes help students—they know. And they also know what style they want.

Off to College

Young women and young men can both choose shoes here with assurance that they will be correct in style, wherever they may go. There's a fine collection of new fall styles to choose from.

And it was the coal bill that almost put the final crimp in him. The pity of it is that he could have come through fat and strong if he had a Sterling Furnace.

A Sterling would have kept you more comfortable and reduced the coal bill at least one-third. That's the say so of users right here in town.

Right now is the time to investigate this furnace proposition and see whether or not your furnace is robbing your pocketbook. If it is, we will fix you up so there'll be a smile on the poor old boy's face a year from now. Come in today and let's talk facts and figures.
